

S1.5

Session 2 - WS 3 - Workshop ICF in assessment of disability for work

28/09/2023

16:40:00 - 18:00:00

BACKGROUND

Despite many articles about ICF and assessment of disability for work, the precise place of ICF in the assessments remains undetermined. Attempts have been made to identify items from the ICF classification that seem relevant for assessment of disability for work. This resulted in several different core sets for different purposes. A rather different approach is to study how the medical decision making fits to the image that the ICF concept presents of disability. Assessments for disability for work all address impairments and they all result in decisions about disability but how is the connection between the two established? Among countries, this appears to be done in different manners. In an international survey we used the ICF framework to identify how ICF elements are implied in the medical decision making in disability assessment in The Netherlands, in Romania and in other countries.

AIM

To share a conceptual approach of ICF in disability assessment in different countries. Participants will gain a better understanding of their own medical decision making and of the medical decision making elsewhere.

PANEL

Wout DE BOER (1) ; Corina OANCEA (2)

oanceaco@gmail.com

AFFILIATION COUNTRY

1 : Independent, Utrecht, NETHERLANDS ; 2 : Carol Davila University of Medicine and Pharmacy - Faculty of ROMANIA

ABSTRACT

<https://frontoffice.europa-inviteo.com/eumass23/callfor/export/book-of-abstract.php?ref=A39111DP>